

Sylvia Bishop announces series of business-outreach breakfasts

August 1, 2018 – Delta, B.C. – Sylvia Bishop, a two-term councillor seeking election this fall as Mayor of Delta, today launched a business-outreach initiative – ‘Business Breakfasts with Bishop’ – to take place over an eight-week period leading up to the local-government elections on October 20.

The initiative will feature a series of 13 early-morning meals in five distinct business areas in Delta – Annacis Island, Ladner, North Delta, Tilbury Island and Tsawwassen – between August 20 and October 10.

“Business men and women in Delta are resourceful, innovative and hard-working,” said Bishop, “and I am eager to strengthen a positive, two-way dialogue between our municipal administration and the private-sector.”

She added: “Our city has come a long way in recent years, yet I believe we hold even greater promise and potential in the future. In that regard it is vital for us to maintain a respectful relationship with the business people who invest in our community and create jobs for local residents.”
